If you want to give your grown up son a Christmas Gift that will be greatly appreciated, buy him one of those Tuxedo Coats and Vests that D. Hechinger & Co. just got in. They are cut in the very latest style, silk lined throughout, and only cost $13.50.

The Epworth League of the Third Street M. E. Church will entertain with a social tonight in the Sunday-school room of the Church, to which all are invited. An excellent time is assured, as a very good program will be carried out. "The League's Locomotive Literary Ledger" will be read. Please bring a palm leaf fan with you.

If you are looking for Xmas presents we have what you want. See our Signet Rings, Watch Chains and Lockets; Neck Chains, Cuff Buttons and Tie Holders, Brooches, Watches, Diamond Rings, Stands, Scarf Pins, in fact, everything in the line of Gold and Silver. Our store will be open every night until after Xmas.
P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

Yesterday afternoon in making the turn at Third and Market the trolley pole of one of the streetcars jumped the wire and tore down the greater portion of the wire netting that abounds at that particular point. Live wires were scattered about for a time and pedestrians were careful in making the crossing. For a time there was a congestion of cars, but they were soon put in motion by the united efforts of Senator Cox and Superintendent Holiday.

Let all continue and complete the good work of providing relief for the suffering poor. They should not only have a Christmas dinner—which comes but once a year—but they should have warm firesides these winter nights. Let us have a coal fund. Send in your subscriptions and THE LEDGER will lend its aid to good women of the city who have taken the matter up in seeing that it is an accomplished fact. Do not delay. This is a substantial charity, and an investment which no cheerful giver will regret.

CALEB POWERS CASE

Supreme Court Judges Refuse to Set Date For Hearing

The question of jurisdiction in the case of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the murder of Goebel, was yesterday presented to the Supreme Court of the United States in the form of a motion for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus, commanding United States Judge Cochran of the Eastern District of Kentucky to remand the case to the State Courts and restore Powers to the custody of the Sheriff of Scott county, where Powers' fourth trial was about to begin when Judge Cochran's Court took jurisdiction.

The motion was presented on behalf of the state by Hon. Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., formerly United States Solicitor General.

Attorney General Hays of Kentucky was in the Courtroom.

The Attorneys present representing Caleb Powers were ex-Governor Richard Yates of Illinois, and Attorneys J. C. Sims of Bowling Green, E. L. Worthington of this city, and H. Clay Howard of Paris.

Governor Yates presented a petition for the dismissal of the appeal in the case.

Both parties asked the Court to hear the motions on January 15th, but the Court refused to fix a date.

It is amusing to watch the number of people who by force of custom cross over to the vacant room of the old Postoffice, and when they discover their mistake hear them remark in a potent way, "Oh, pehaw; this is a nuisance," and off they start, headed for Plumville.

Thomas Therman, a section hand on the C. and O., whose home is near Coucord, was struck by the Eastbound accommodation train yesterday morning while at work at South Manchester, receiving injuries from which he died some ten hours afterward at the Huntington Hospital, where he was taken for medical attention.

SQUARED THE ACCOUNT

Young Man Refunded Money Lost at the Gaming Table

Saturday's LEDGER gave an account of a young married man in this city, who held a responsible and lucrative position and was respected by his employer, going astray by losing his firm's money at the card table, and that it was more than likely the matter would be adjusted outside the Courtroom.

THE LEDGER's prediction in regard to the refunding of the money was verified by the young man receiving back the amount lost at the gaming table and he was thereby enabled to make restitution to rightful owner of funds he had wrongfully taken and used in gratifying an insatiable desire for card playing.

A game and thoroughbred gambler would despise such an action; if the shoe had been on the other foot—that is, if the house had been the loser instead of this tenderfoot—it would have been all right; he would have patted his breast and proclaimed himself a wise guy.

The hero of this episode informed a representative of THE LEDGER that, aside from tossing the cards, he was strictly a moral man and good husband; perhaps that is so.

There is one character that stands out in bold relief in this case, as in all others where a man gets into trouble: It is the good wife who is the beacon light and salvation of the struggling victim in the toils.

It is then he turns to her for succor and aid—and he is seldom disappointed in her trustful and loving heart—nab by her tears and pleading he is saved from the stern hand of the law of a punishment that entails imprisonment and disgrace.

May this be a lesson he will take seriously to heart and henceforth walk in the path of uprightness and rectitude.

If there are others in this city trending in the footsteps of this young man, let them pause and consider the evil of their way and have a thought of the bitter fruit that is sure to be garnered by pursuing such a course.

WHO'LL BE NEXT?

Good Citizens Who Approve the Christmas Dinner Plan.

THE LEDGER's suggestion for a Christmas Dinner for Maysville's worthy poor met prompt response.

Mrs. Charles D. Pearce and Mrs. Harry R. Owens are enlisted in the good cause, and they will have able assistance.

Mr. W. W. Ball has generously given the use of his building adjoining the Frank Owens Hardware Company for the dinner, and donations of cooked food can be left at that place on Saturday, December 23d, or early Christmas morning.

THE LEDGER will gladly acknowledge further subscriptions of cash.

Winfield Buckler of Carlisle Sues Railroad for Damages

Winfield Buckler of Carlisle has brought suit in the El Paso (Tex.) District Court against the El Paso and Northeastern Railway, for being called a thief. He asks $2,500 damages.

In October last year he and his wife went to El Paso over the Northeastern road.

He declares when the Pullman porter made up his berth, the porter threw something behind it. Soon after the Conductor appeared and charged him with stealing a watch containing $10.

The watch was found behind the berth, and he was summoned before the Company's Attorney and an explanation demanded.

He was in ill health and he asserts that the unjust accusation caused him anxiety and prolonged his illness.

RAVAGES
OF SOME GREAT
FAMINES

It has been calculated that more than 2,000 persons starved to death in Spain last summer, says The New York Herald. The famine was due to the drouth. Horrifying as are these figures the Spanish mortality occupies an important place in the record of the world's great famines.

In the great famine in India in 1769-70 3,000,000 people are supposed to have perished, and 1,500,000 died in the famine of 1896. In 1873 the rice crop in the district of Behar, in Northwestern Bengal, yielded only a quarter of the average harvest, and as 15,000,000 people were dependent on this crop for sustenance the Government was obliged to make purchases of rice, chiefly in farther India, and provide means of conveying it to the districts, including the building of a railway forty-five miles long. For a long time 3,000,000 persons received daily support, either in alms, in work or in loans.
This relief was continued from October, 1873, till December, 1874. In this way, the Government expended $32,000,000. Donations, also, amounting to over a million dollars, were contributed by private subscription. In this way the death rate was kept down to only twenty-five persons.

In 1876 both of the monsoons failed to bring their due supply of rain, and the season of 1877 was little better. The consequences of this prolonged drouth, which extended from the Deccan to Cape Comorin and subsequently invaded Northern India, were more disastrous than any similar calamity up to that time since the introduction of British rule. Notwithstanding unparalleled importations of grain by sea and rail, and despite the most strenuous exertions of the Government, which expended about $55-000,000 for the purpose, the loss of life from actual starvation and its attendant train of diseases and want in the distressed tracts, in excess of the normal mortality, for two years, 1876-78, is estimated to have raised the death rate by 40%, or 5,250,000.

Great famines have occurred in Persia in recent years and Russia has had many during the past century, but the most terrible famine in recent times was the Irish famine of 1845-47.
It was caused by the loss of the potato crop.
Ireland had at that time a population of about eight and a half millions, and it was largely dependent upon the potato crop.

The crop of 1845 was a partial failure and the peasantry, who had no surplus food of former harvests to fall back upon, were compelled to take clothing and household furniture to the pawnshops to purchase food and seed for the next harvest. Unfortunately, the crop of 1846 was a total failure and absolute ruin and starvation threatened the whole population.
The Government was slow in taking adequate relief measures and great numbers died for want of food and from disease caused by lack of proper sustenance. Several million dollars were raised by private subscription, and the Government contracted a loan of £8,000,000 to supply the wants of the suffering people.
When the full extent of the calamity was realized the British Government and people did everything possible, and large sums of money and shipments of provisions were sent from this country. At one time 3,000,000 Irish people were receiving rations. A million and a half of people died of starvation or disease.

The Indian famine of 1896-97 was the most severe ever known in that famine-afflicted country. The great famine of 1877 affected 257,000 square miles and 58,000,000 persons.
That of 1897 affected 322,000 square miles and 68,000,000 persons. The highest number receiving relief in 1877 was 3,173,000, while in 1897 more than 4,500,000 were aided during the month of June.

Warm Footwear!

The kind that pleases; in Combination and Felt Boots; also, Rubber Shoes to go over felt boots. Keep your feet warm and head cool. These are better than heavy, clumsy leather boots. Our Combination Boot and Felt Boot are the top notch. Call and let us show you our line.
